Amended Election Law To Speed Filing Here

Candidates for the three Redwood City City Council offices which will be open at the next election will have nine less days in which to file their intention of running than had been previously announced. Ralph S. Dodge, city clerk, announced Tuesday he had just received a new copy of California election laws and that the dates had been changed from those he announced last Friday. .

Candidates must now file between Feb. 8 and Feb. 28 to be eligible for a place on the ballot. It had been previously announced that they had from Feb. 8 to Mar. 9.

The clerk did not, however, see any rush of candidates as yet. Not a single candidate has obtained papers by the close of business yesterday. The city hall was closed today, but Dodge promised that tomorrow both he and Miss Irene Boicelli would be on hand and ready to pass out the forms.

It is Redwood City tradition that candidates will not file until the last minute, he continued, and although he will be ready should any person decide to break tradition, the clerk doesn't expect any immediate rush of business.

Five minutes before noon on Feb. 28, he expects a rush, that noon being the deadline.

Positions now held by Harold F. Anderson, 2024 Broadway; Carl A. (Ike) Britschgi, 1004 Lakewood Rd.; and Evans A. Fletcher, 1 Duane St., will be on the block at election time.

To qualify for a place on the ballot, candidates must present a nomination paper signed by 10 registered voters. The papers are available at the clerk's office.

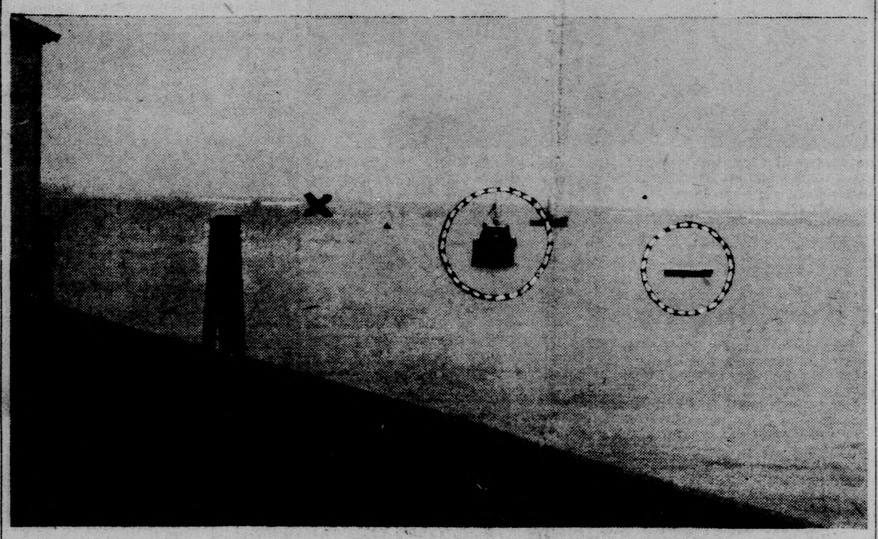
Where Fisherman Lost His Life



A middle-aged San Francisco man died and two others were saved late yesterday after the 16-foot skiff (right) in which they were riding overturned about one mile off Princeton. The "X" indicates where the three men were picked up by a Coast Guard crash boat (center) after clinging to their fishing boat for two hours. The victim, Thomas Wall, 460 29th St., died of exposure before first aid could be administered. (Tribune photo)

S.F. Man Dead, 2 Others Rescued As Boat Overturns Off Coast

One man lost his life and two others were rescued Tuesday afternoon after the 16-foot skiff they had rented for a fishing trip overturned a mile offshore from Princeton.

Thomas Wall, 50, 460-29th St., San Francisco, clung to the overturned boat with his companions for several hours, but he died from exposure after he reached the Coast Guard station at Princeton. Wall and his two guests on the fishing trip, James Mitchell, 28, 630-29th St., San Francisco, and Thomas A. Hilton, 24, Baxter, Kans., who has been visiting Mitchell, were picked up by a Coast Guard crew about 3 p.m.

The trio had rented the boat from James Healy at Princeton at 8 a.m. Tuesday and went a mile off shore. About noon the water became rough and they decided to come in. While the men were rowing in, a large wave hit the boat and overturned it.

All had on lifejackets and they clung to the overturned boat for several hours until they were rescued by the coast guard.

Hilton said he saw the coast guard boat go by some time earlier but his attempts to attract the crew's attention were unsuccessful.

Hilton and Mitchell were removed to Community Hospital at San Mateo after being treated for exposure at the Naval Hospital at Montara.

Wall's body was taken to the Dutra Funeral Home at Half Moon Bay.

Sheriff's Deps. Jack O'Brien and Adolph Waldeck investigated the accident.

Butano Meeting Here Canceled

County Fire Warden Bert L. Werder called off the Butano committee meeting scheduled for Wednesday at the courthouse upon advisement that a state appraisal of the 5000-acre Redwood tract should be concluded before a campaign to raise the matching funds is undertaken.

Werder received a letter from Dist. Mgr. Fred C. Tatton of the State Chamber of Commerce reporting that State Park Comsr. Joseph Knowland Sr. advised in Los Angeles this weekend that State Engineer Frederick L. Olmsted would soon begin an appraisal of the area. Werder said he would accompany Olmsted during his tour of the Butano.

Knowland informed Tatton that the best procedure now would be to have Olmsted go ahead with his appraisal, define the area and set the price before campaigning for matching funds.

The present plan includes turning over the county-owned Memorial Park to the state and raising an additional $150,000 at least to match the approximate $500,000 which the Pacific Lumber Co. paid for the Butano when the Redwood area was purchased last March.

Although no official appraisal of Memorial Park has been made, it is estimated at about $100,000, Werder said.

Industries Check Future Tax Rate

E. W. (Ned) Butler, Redwood City Chamber of Commerce manager, Tuesday said that an unspecified number of industries had requested the chamber to make a survey determining what effect proposed bond issues would have on the tax rate.

Butler declined to name the industries making the request or to tell how many of them did. He did say, however, that the request was not made critically.

Teachers Offer New Wage Plan

A teachers' delegation, which has asked a new salary schedule, presented an alternate schedule Monday at the Ravenswood School Board meeting which would include an emergency bonus, be determined each year by the board, for salaries in the lower brackets. No salary, including bonus, would ever be reduced under the plan.

Base salary would be based upon the state minimum of $1800 annually, with a $120 increase each year for a 10-year period, with a maximum salary of $2880.

Clarence Budd, representing the Palo Alto Park Property Owners Assn., requested of the board that the Ravenswood building be repaired and kept in repair, regardless of any future building program.

Menlo Seeks New Site for School

The Menlo Park Dist. School Board Monday authorized Supt. O. H. Olson to search for a new school site and make necessary arrangements for purchasing at least one of the two additional school sites desired by the board.

In addition to locating and arranging for purchase of the site, Olson was empowered to consult the San Mateo County district attorney and school superintendent in regard to arranging an election for either a school bond or a special school tax.

The board last night went on record in favor of acquiring the two new school sites as soon as possible.

Tentative approval of a new teachers' salary schedule was granted by the board, with the recommendation that teachers go over the schedule in search of minor revisions.

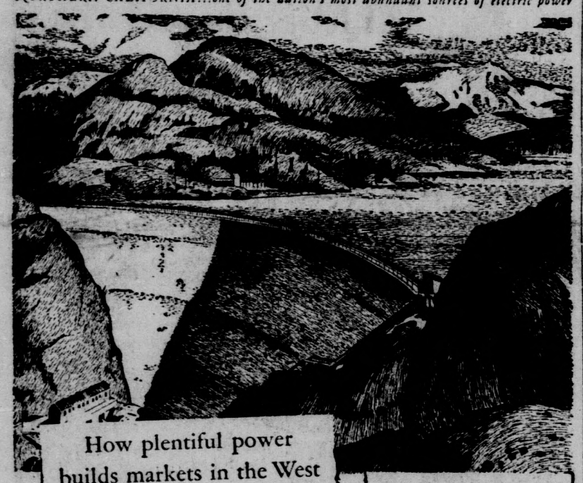
NORTHERN CALIFORNIA...one of the nation's most abundant sources of electric power



How plentiful power builds markets in the West

More than half of all the hydroelectric power in the United States is generated in the West. Thirty-seven billion kilowatt-hours annually.

And one important result is... better markets for your products.

Western housewives, for example, buy far more home appliances than average housewives. Seventeen per cent more of their homes are wired for electricity, and their standards of living are consequently higher. Western farms use nearly three times as much electricity as average farms, California alone accounting for more than half the country's entire rural consumption.

So plentiful power helps build western markets just as it helps lower manufacturing costs, and nowhere in the West is power more plentiful than in Northern California. Here, the Pacific Gas and Electric Company's vast interconnected generating system has a capacity twice that of Boulder Dam, and 60 per cent greater than Bonneville and Grand Coulee combined. Rates are among the lowest in the nation.

If power is important in your business, either in creating a market or in producing for one, investigate the advantages of locating in Northern California. The Pacific Gas and Electric Company will be glad to help you in every way possible.

POWER...to Pace the Future

Electric energy, the "White Coal" of the West, has been an important factor in the challenging growth and prosperity of Northern California. The abundance of this electric power, its widespread distribution at rates among the lowest in the nation, have fostered a live demand for a great diversity of products for the home, farm, factory and business. A dependable supply of hydro-electricity has helped make Northern California one of the richest markets in the Nation.

You, who use electric appliances in your homes and constantly add to this family of mechanical servants, are that market. You buy and use far more electrical appliances than folks elsewhere in the country and you can do so because electricity is convenient and cheap. You, who have farms in Northern California, use more than half of the Nation's entire rural power load. You have complete electric service in your farm home, in the fields and barns. And you, like Northern California business and industry, use electricity to help lower your production costs.

Low cost electric power, and lots of it, has been a builder of markets in Northern California. It took the heavy demands of wartime industries in stride and is ready now to pace the future.

This is the fourth of a series of Pacific Gas and Electric Company advertisements to attract new industry to Northern California. It will appear in Time and the Saturday Evening Post.

City-State Educational Relationships Explained at Sequoia Teachers Meeting

The relationship of the State Department of Education with schools throughout the state was discussed by State Superintendent of Public Instruction Roy E. Simpson during a dinner meeting of the San Mateo County Teachers Assn. at Sequoia High School Monday night.

More than 250 teachers heard Simpson explain how the state department was being enlarged to provide more personal contact with state schools as population increases in the state.

Pansy J. Abbott, county superintendent of schools, introduced Simpson and told the group that during her term in office she had worked with four previous state superintendents, the late Will C. Wood, William John Cooper, Vierling Kersey, present superintendent of Los Angeles schools and the late Walter Dexter.

Mrs. John J. Garland of Menlo Park, state president of the Parent-Teachers Assn., and Mrs. L. G. Evans, 17th District president of the PTA, issued greetings to the teachers. Supt. Andrew Spinas of Redwood City elementary schools was chairman of the meeting in his capacity as president of the county teachers association.

Roy W. Cloud Sr. of Redwood City, executive secretary of the California Teachers Assn., spoke of future plans of the association.

Preceding the dinner at 6:30 p.m., about 75 teachers, members of the governing council of the county teachers association, met in the Sequoia library. The following committees were approved by the council: Executive committee, Spinas, chairman, members, Roy Liddicoat, superintendent of the Ravenswood School District; Jessie Davis, Pescadero elementary school teacher; Charles Zipfel, vice principal of South San Francisco High School; Esther Gothan, Burlingame elementary school teacher.

Membership committee John Hiter of the San Mateo Borel School, who will work with a representative of each school throughout the county; professional growth and public relations committee, Clive Saiz, Jefferson High School teacher, chairman; Dr. Frank M. Stanger of San Mateo Junior College and Mrs. Eleanor Collins, county director of school curriculum.

Salary and statistics committee, S. S. Mayo, principal of the adult evening school at Sequoia, chairman. He will work with other teachers and is at present working with the California Teachers Assn. on the same subject; budget committee, Viola Happy, South San Francisco elementary school teacher, chairman.

The governing council is planning three more meetings this year, in May, September and November, Spinas said.

Ravenswood Officials Hit County Study of Reading Quiz

T. A. Callahan, of the Ravenswood School Board, said Monday at a monthly board meeting that in answer to a board request for clarification on the subject of county-administered reading tests Miss Pansy J. Abbott, San Mateo county school superintendent, had not, as a public official, given the board any satisfactory answer.

"We started out to learn how our school rated. We want to know whether or not our children are behind in reading," Callahan said. "We're not satisfied with what we received from Miss Abbott's office."

Last August, the trustee said, parents complained Ravenswood students were not learning to read properly, and requested that a phonics course be included in the school's curriculum. The school board decided to test the students, he said, to see whether or not the reading program was adequate, and know whether or not to add remedial courses in the subject.

Roy Liddicoat, superintendent of the Ravenswood district, at the request of the board, then arranged for the county to administer reading tests.

A month ago, contending that only one part of a three part test was given and that a second grade test was given the third grade, the school board directed a letter to Miss Abbott requesting an explanation of the results presented on the basis of those tests. Although the board requested a written answer, they agreed to meet in Miss Abbott's office in Redwood City.

At that meeting, Callahan said, Miss Abbott agreed that results of the test cannot be compared to a national norm, saying further that they were not compared to a national norm and that she would not question Mrs. Collins on the subject of her reputation.

Callahan still insists that Mrs. Collins did relate test results to a national norm, and still wants to know why.

He is a graduate of the Santa Clara University Law School.

Call Housing Bill Approved

A bill authored by Assemblyman Harrison W. Call of Redwood City to appropriate $2,500,000 for construction housing veteran students at privately-owned colleges and universities was passed by the assembly Wednesday and sent to the senate.

Meantime, Call left Sacramento today with a delegation of California legislators and state officials for Salt Lake City to meet with representatives of 11 Western States convening as the commission on interstate co-operation.

One of the delegates from California, Assemblyman Jack Massion, Los Angeles, said one of the most important problems to be discussed will be housing. Other problems to be discussed include water conservation, tidelands ownership, unemployment and agricultural questions.

Atty. Gen. Robert W. Kenny is chairman of the California group.

By the bill passed by the assembly today, the money would be administered by the Veterans' Welfare Board and title to all buildings would remain with the state, it was explained by Call.

The only opposition to the measure, according to Associated Press was expressed by Assemblyman Philip Davis, Bel-Air, who objected to what he termed "subsidizing of private educational institutions."

RC Sportsmen Protest Fish Take Reduction

The Redwood City Sportsmen's Club at a meeting Monday sent a letter to the California Fish and Game Commission strongly protesting a reduction in the daily trout limit from 25 to 15 fish, Morton Brewer, club president, announced Tuesday.

News of Commuters

BY JOE CABOOSE

Contrary to all surface facts, America is in the throes of a severe depression. How do we know? Because men of America today have no shirts. The lowly shirt has always been the symbol of material wealth in this country. When a man has "lost his shirt," it's a way of saying he has lost everything. When a man is unduly generous you say he "would give you the shirt off his back." Thus the shirt has become a symbol of prosperity. And today we stand bankrupt—a shirtless nation!

As a boy in Alabama (during the 1913 panic) we overheard a neighbor complain that he was actually down to his "last half dozen silk shirts." The nearest we ever came to a silk shirt was the one Uncle Jim won in a raffle. It was too small for Uncle Jim, so after we put in two days chopping his cotton in the broiling sun it became ours. That was the first store-boughten shirt we ever owned and it had only a silk front. And now, after 30 years, we're right back where we started —without a shirt!

The point is, even in those early days, the shirt was the measure of wealth. And the degree of wealth varied. The lad who complained he was down to his "last half dozen silk shirts," was actually the village rich boy. His dad owned the bank that loaned the rest of our dads money at 8 or 12 percent to finance the next year's crops. This boy had always worn shoes, even in the summer time. If still alive, wonder what he's doing for shirts now? He's probably "fraying" along with the rest of us.

The carriage trade turned out for the directors' meeting at the home of Mr. T. Walter Cutting last Tuesday. A total of sixteen officers and directors answered the roll-call. We suspect advance word leaked out that Uncle Tom was going to carve up a 15-lb. cold boiled Hormel ham. Brother, what a treat! On such occasions we take more than an academic interest in seeing how the other half live.

★ ★ ★

The meeting was fruitful in other ways too. Joe Harper was appointed chairman of the Commuters' Red Cross drive which begins February 19th. The directors agreed to continue their sponsorship of a Saturday-night-a-month at the old USO Hospitality House under the chairmanship of Martha Brand. They voted a sum of $95.25 to finance their Troop 160 scout activities during 1946. (Incidentally, Scout Chairman Art England turned in a swell report and is doing a fine job in this department!) President Brizee appointed the 1946 nominating committee, as follows: Lou Winkenwerder, chairman; Dr. E. Boyd (San Carlos), John Clarke, Bill Curfan and Gene Hoffman.

One of the nicest things about Uncle Tom's directors' meeting was the presence again of our old friend and Club benefactor, Richard tum Suden who, for reasons we all understand, has not been able to attend recent meetings. Host Cutting, always thoughtful and gracious, inquired about "Tess," then began carving that ham and building a couple of "Dagwoods" with pumpernickel bread, and stashing them in a sack with olives and pickles and cheese-snacks, and instructing Dick to "take them to Tess, with all our love!" It was Uncle Tom's idea, and his ham, but the whole club shares in the expression of affection that went with it.

Glad to see Forrest Brandeburg out and around again after a severe illness . . . Dick Simoni, who had a close brush with the Grim Reaper last week, account pneumonia, is home from the hospital and doing fine, his mother reports . . . Lloyd Liebman received a letter from his daughter, Phyllis, from Honolulu stating she had dinner recently with the Wrex Cruse family, now residing in the Islands . . . Continuing our research into "how the other half lives" we called on the Al Armitages Saturday night, to see their new home on Blandford Blvd. To borrow a phrase from the children, "it's super!" Al told an interesting story about his oak trees. The attending tree surgeon discovered a nest of baby owls in a rotted recession. He delayed the "operation" several months until the babies flew away. That's more consideration than some tenants show for human babies.

Speaking of owls reminds us of our youth on the farm. One day we went hunting and came to a tall pine tree in which a big hoot owl was perched. He sat on a limb on the other side of the trunk, near the top, and peeked around the trunk so all we could see was part of his head. We decided to walk around the tree to get a better shot at him, and as we did so he followed us with his eyes, meanwhile twisting his neck. We walked clear around that tree and the fool owl wrung his own neck, dropping dead at our feet.

A commuter bemoans the fact that men drivers have replaced women on the local buses. His complaint is that the women observed the schedule to the second whereas the men "make you run for it" by leaving certain stops as much as 3 minutes early, and that they have no regard time-wise for the schedule. We rarely use the buses and can neither confirm nor deny this charge but if true it is probably the first time in history that women have been more punctual than men. As for the women in our life, we have yet to find one who has the slightest conception of time. Be that as it may, don't forget the big monthly dinner meeting at Grace & Pierre's this Thursday, Feb. 14! It is a "transportation" meeting, so if you have any "beefs," that's the place to make 'em.

BOY SCOUT NEWS

Spurred by the personal congratulations of President Truman, San Mateo County scouts joined with others throughout the nation in climaxing their 36th birthday.

In greeting the Scouts, the President said: "Evidence of your determination to help your fellow scouts in other lands less fortunate than ours is worthy of the Boy Scouts of America. Your record for wartime services accomplished is enviable."

With Eugene O. Brose, director, in charge, the San Mateo County Area Council Scout Band led the colorful Scout Sunday Observance for scouts of Catholic faith, climaxing with the special service in St. Mary's Cathedral in San Francisco Sunday with the Most Reverend Archbishop Mitty conducting, the Rev. Eugene J. Shea, archdiocesan scout chaplain in charge of arrangements.

Scout units from Oakland, Berkeley and Alameda, the Peninsula and San Jose Councils, San Joaquin, Silverado, Sonoma-Mendocino and Marin County Councils, as well as representative groups of the San Francisco Area Council assembled at the city hall in San Francisco at 12:30 p.m. to be led by the San Mateo Scout Band in a parade up Van Ness Ave. to the cathedral.

Feature of the special services in observance of the Twelfth Scout Law, "A Scout is Reverent," was the recognition of outstanding Catholic Scouts with the Ad Altare Die Cross for specific service to community and church. The Most Reverend Archbishop Mitty made the presentation.

William Stevens, scout commissioner for the southern district of the San Mateo County Council, presided over the first meeting of scout unit leaders held at Sequoia High School Feb. 4.

Plans for Boy Scout Week observance, outlining of the service areas for neighborhood commissioners service and special events were outlined at the session.

In attendance were T. J. Seitz, Golden Jones, E. P. Tiernan, Larry Mitchell, Gordon Day, L. W. Allen, E. H. George, W. M. Jackson, Norman Naughten, John Erhart, Arthur Sinclair, John Power, Bruce Schott, James Welsh, Fred Eilerman, P. H. Bozzo, H. Walters, Stan Marcus, Warner Britschgi, William Lane, M. A. Gooding, Walter Sjosten, W. A. Gueffroy, Will Rogers, Hamilton Day, Al Martin and George A. Cook. Special guests were Don Barley of the council executive staff and Phil D. Stitt, area cub commissioner. Chet E. Wilson, assistant executive, acted as advisor for the group.

A court of honor for all scouts was set for Mar. 1, at which time cub, scout and senior scout awards will be made. A Camp-O-Rette will be staged on May 4 and 5 and the cub track meet, under the sponsorship of the Redwood City Kiwanis Club will be held Apr. 27.

Mr. John Cowgill of the county probation department, was a special guest and discussed plans for cooperation of the scout units and members of the department.

Troop 160—E. H. George, scoutmaster, was in charge of the last meeting of the troop at Scout Hall which featured the induction of Karl Hundchen as a Tenderfoot Scout. Jack Brand gave instruction to all members on observation and judging and the troop committee met in session with the scoutmaster to plan Scout Week activities.

Troop 154—The meeting at the San Carlos School on Feb. 4 was devoted to the business session, instruction on map making and code practice under the direction of George A. Cook, neighborhood scout commissioner.

Troop 159—Meeting at the Woodside Scout Hall under the direction of Fred Eilerman, scoutmaster, time was devoted to the practicing of events and getting organized for participation in the camporette. Twenty-three members were in attendance.

Troop 153—A treasure hunt will feature the next meeting of the troop at the San Carlos School, H. E. Purcell, scoutmaster, said, following the last meeting which featured a business meeting and plans for Scout Week and other activities. Thirty-three members were in attendance and a game period closed the session.

Woodside Favors School Bond Vote

More than 50 Woodside residents approved a proposed $40,000 Greersburg Elementary School bond election for construction of two new classrooms during a public meeting at the Woodside school Monday night, Trustee W. W. Mein Jr., reported Tuesday.

The resolution setting the bond election for Tuesday, Mar. 26 will be passed by trustees at their regular monthly meeting Feb. 19, Mein said. The bonds would have a 10-year maturity.

Woodside residents should register by tomorrow at the courthouse in Redwood City in order to vote in the Mar. 26 election.

During the meeting last night, trustees presented plans for the two new classrooms, pointing out that crowded conditions at the school necessitate the contemplated enlargement. The school will receive four teachers through state aid rather than the present three because of the increased enrollment but there are only enough classrooms for three instructors, trustees told the assembled group.

A chart showing the increasing enrollment was shown with indications that 125 students will be enrolled in the near future.

School Architect Hervey Parke Clark presented two plans for location of the new classrooms. Cost and best utilization of existing facilities will determine the location, trustees said.

The first proposed location in the rear of the building would necessitate moving the present auditorium. A second location in front of the building would be less costly and can be financed by the $40,000 bond issue, trustees pointed out.

Most intelligent of birds are parrots and crows.

Troop Movements Delay Shipping Here

A. A. Moran, Port of Redwood City manager, said Monday that the reason the port has not serviced a ship for more than 10 days is that cargo shipping has been curbed by a campaign to bring U. S. troops home from the Orient before transporting cargo.

He said that in another month he expects most of the troops eligible for return will have been returned and that shipping interests will then return to cargo work.

Firemen Halt Blaze In Atherton Home

Menlo Park firemen Monday extinguished a roof fire at the home of Leland S. Rosener Sr., at 98 Isabella St., Atherton.

Firemen said a spark from the chimney in the ranch-style dwelling probably ignited the shake roof. A three-foot hole was burned in the roof, but firemen said damage was light.

Peanut shells can be processed into fuel, bedding and plastics.

R.C. Store Offers Medical Aids

H. E. Holmquist, owner of the Holmquist Hardware store at Main and Stambaugh Sts., announced recently that a complete medical oxygen and equipment stock is now available to doctors, hospitals and private homes.

Immediate delivery by day or night includes oxygen, helium, light cylinders, nitrous oxide cylinders, hospital cylinders and hi-pure nitrous oxide.

Cook Arrested On Wife's Charge

Thomas Lopez, 40, Filipino cook on the SS Matsonia, Monday was in the county jail awaiting filing of a formal charge by his former wife who claimed he accosted her in her Bayshore City home Saturday.

Chief Dep. Sheriff Walter J. Moore today said Lopez went to her home at 185 Acacia St. where, after being denied entrance, broke in through a window.

Discharges Pour Into Recorder's Office

County Recorder T. Clark Rice's office had a busy month in January with 539 service discharges recorded, Rice reported Tuesday. In January, 1945, 114 discharges were recorded.

Rice's office handled 5229 papers during the month and collected $7665.25 in fees, compared to 2866 papers in the same month last year and $4258.55 fees collected.

Police Radio System Mapped

Preliminary plans to unify San Mateo County's police-radio system were mapped Tuesday by Three Cities and municipal officials in the county.

Hosts of Councilman Kenneth Monteagle, Hillsborough, at the Burlingame Country Club, the group agreed:

Two Distinctive Meals with Low-Cost Meats

Many of my most appealing menus are planned around inexpensive cuts of meat. Here are two of my best-liked dinners that are sure to bring you compliments from guests or family.

OLD-FASHIONED BOILED DINNER

Don't forget this old favorite for a wintry day. Even the most discriminating eaters go for it. I like to serve it with hot corn bread or cornmeal muffins and a frosted apple dumpling for dessert. I always pass some of the "pot liquor" and a bowl of mustard-horse-radish sauce.

To serve 6, simmer 4 or 5 pounds of boiling beef (choose short ribs, brisket, plate or chuck for this) in a large kettle for 3 or 4 hours or until tender. About ½ hour before serving time place on top of the meat 6 medium-sized peeled potatoes, carrots, white turnips, onions, cabbage wedges and parsnips. Sprinkle lightly with salt and cover tightly. Simmer until vegetables are done. Arrange attractively on a large platter around the meat, keeping all of one kind of vegetable together.

POT ROAST WITH RICH VEGETABLE GRAVY

Here's gravy that's really something. For a Sunday dinner I like to serve pot roast and gravy and accompany it with fluffy mashed potatoes, broccoli with lemon butter, grapefruit and avocado salad with French dressing, whole wheat biscuits and lemon chiffon pie.

Brown a 4 or 5 pound pot roast in hot shortening in a large kettle, turning often. (I usually select one of the chuck roasts or a rump roast to pot roast.) Add 1 to 2 cups water or tomato juice. Put 3 or 4 cut-up tops and outside stalks of celery, a peeled potato, a carrot, a large onion, some leaves of cabbage, parsley and any left-over vegetables you have on hand in the kettle with the pot roast. Sprinkle with salt and pepper. Cover tightly and simmer slowly several hours or until meat is tender, adding more liquid if necessary. When done, remove meat and press vegetables through colander along with the liquid. Season the vegetable gravy to taste with salt and pepper, a few drops of Worcestershire or gravy sauce. I find the mashed vegetables thicken the gravy sufficiently. But if you like thicker gravy, then it may be thickened with flour and water.
